Merry-Colonel Skinner and His Sword-The Personnel.

annual reunion of the Old First ala Regiment of Infantry took place enter's Park yesterday, and fifty or enthusiastic veterans relebrated the ion as only they can do. The day pleasant one and the grounds very and there was everything to make hering happy. Men who had filled important positions in the famous ation were in attendance, and foreorganization were in attendance, and foremost among these was the venerable Colonel Fred, G. Ekinner, of New York, a former commandant of the regiment. He was greeted most cordially by every one,
and was, in fact, the hon of the day. The survivors of Company D were out in full force, while Company G was also well represented. A number of the old payrolls of the regiment were produced and the picnickers inspected them with the most eager interest, for they brought back a world of sad but pleasant memories.
There on the list were the names of many who have departed since the war, and of still more who gave their lives for the Lost Cause.

Cause.

Refreshments, both liquid and solid, were served in profusion, and the dinner set for the veterans was an excellent one indeed. Not a few of the time-worn solidiers were heard to say that twenty-seven or twenty-eight years ago they would have almost sold their lives for such a meal. The Brunswick stew was perhaps the best feature of the repast. Colonel Skinner presided at the dinner, while Captain E. P. Reeve occupied a seat at the foot of the board.

Mr. James A. Gentry ("Truthful Jeems"), a well-known member of the regiment, read several original selections from his "Memories of the Old First." which he is now preparing for publication at some future date. His facetious alliusions to the various members and companies afforded much amusement and were greatly enjoyed.

mes afforded much amusement and were greatly enjoyed.

The sword of Colonel Skinner, now a rusty blade, was presented to the organization, and attracted great attention. The mabre, which is an exceedingly heavy one, has cut down more than one Yankee, and he knowledge of this fact rendered it loubly interesting to the veterans.

Among those in attendance at the remion were:

Ir. Morton's First Sermon.-Sunday

The new assistant rector, Rev. William J. Morton, conducted services at St. James church on Sunday morning for the first time. His text was a carefully-selected irst time. His text was a carefully-selected me and very appropriate for a young minister. His discourse was interesting from beginning to end, and was given lose attention by the large audience. The olo sung by Miss Ne he Rogers, "One iweetly Solemn Thought," was beautifully rendered. Miss Rogers possesses a rich, weet voice and always thrills her auditors than the sings.

wheel voice and always thrills her auditors when she sings.

The handsome brass lecturn to the memory of the late Mrs. Palmer, who was for many years a faithful member of St. James church, has been placed in position. It was made by Giessler, the New York artist in this class of work, and is a handsome and beautiful piece of chancel furniture. The carving is both dainty and exquisite.

Lay services were conducted at Weddell-Memorial chapel on Sunday morning by Mr. W. S. Blankenship.

Early communion was held at Grace church on Sunday morning, the rector, Rev. L. R. Mason, officiating.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

The usual services were conducted in the various Catholic churches on Sunday. Nothwithstanding that a great many people are away from the city at the seashore or in the mountains the convergations were large and manifested much interest. Very Rev. Father Frioh preached an able and impressive sermon at the Cathedral in the morning.

METHODISTS.

METHODISTS.

The Methodist Society of this city, under the supervision of Thomas F. Minor, vice-president, organized a Sunday school at Harton Heights Sunday afternoon by the election of J. E. Harding, superintendent and chorister; W. H. Bennett, secretary and treasurer; Miss Eva Tyler, organist, and a corps of teachers. The society of this city furnished the school with the books, Bibles, and papers necessary to begin work; also, with a handsome library-desk. Services will be held Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN.

The congregation of Marshall-Street church have called Rev. A. R. Moore to succeed Kev. L. A. Cutler, who resigned the pastorate of that church the 1st of this month. Mr. Cutler is now engaged in evangelistic work in Southwest Virginia. Mr. Moore is editor of the Missionar y Weekly, the organ of the Disciples in Virginia, and his acceptance of the call to the Marshall-Street church may depend on the action of a meeting to take place at the Seventh-Street church to-night at 7:15 o'clock. The meeting is for the purpose of deciding whether the publication of the Missionary Weekly shall be continued. The Missionary Weekly Publishing Company as at present constituted will not issue the paper after this month, but if a reorganization can be effected and sufficient money raised it will be continued until the State convention meets in the fall and the churches decide what shall be done after that time. All Disciples in Richmond and Manchester are invited to participate in the meeting to-night. CHRISTIAN.

in the meeting to-night.

PRESENTERIAN.

Rev. R. P. Kerr, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, had a busy day indeed on Sunday. He preached at the penitentiary in the morning and at his own church at 11 A. M., conducting the communion services at the close of the sermon and receiving three new members into the church. In the afternoon he preached at Westminster church and again at night from his own pulpit, closing up the day with a graphic and impressive discourse upon the "Transfiguration."

The services at the "Richmond Home for Ladies" Sunday evening were unusually interesting and helpful. They were diversified with singing, Scriptural reading, and an address by Mr. J. D. K. Bleight, which was greatly enjoyed by the immates.

The golemn quietude of the Sabbath was broken in an alloy near Twenty-sixth street, between Main and Cary, on Sunday afternoon. William Dandridge (colored), who has figured quite conspicuously in the Police Court of late, became engaged in a controversy with another sable individual by thename of Charles Wood. During the fight Wood received a severe cut from a knife across his right cheek, the blade penetrating to the mouth and inflicting a serious as well as very ugly wound. Dandridge was also slightly disfigured in the fracas. Wood was so badly hurt that he was taken into a drugstore on Main street where he was given medical attention. An immense crowd was attracted by the affair and excitement ran high among the large growd of negroes who congregated to see what was going on. The ambulance was summoned and Wood was taken home. Dandridge was arrested. The case was salled in the Police Court vectorday but twing to the serious condition of Wood be preliminary examination was postoned until the 27th.

DEATH IN WATER,

The Millions of Dangers Water Contains and the Rapidity with Which They Increase. Don't Take Any Chances.

Bon't Take Any Chances.

Few people have any idea how impure even the purcet drinking water is. The very best water known is full of germs. They are the most profile creatures of which we have any knowledge, for a single one may be the causative parent of more than 10,500,000 descendants in a day. They are also possessed of great vitality, for they can be carried great distance in water without being their power of producing disease. They can be frozen or even boiled without being destroyed. They may be kept dried for year and yet when placed to a suitable medium will come to life and produce fermentation and decay. They are the great producers of malaria, fever, grip, and most serious diseases.

"But," you say, "what can be done to avoid them, since they cannot be killed by boiling?" There is but one king which will effectively destroy them, and that is coming in contact with
